

ICHCA

March - April 2021

Press Clippings

Collated by Portcare International

30 March 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

March 30, 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

Richard Steele

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard’s capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough” John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS: “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”.

1 April 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as new head: The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has named Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation. Steele is a safety and skills professional with a master's degree in training and development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the chief executive at Port Skills and Safety, an organisation that he has led for 11 years.

1 April 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

BSN Network

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) announced the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current post holder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognized non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard’s capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough” John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognized and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS: “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”.

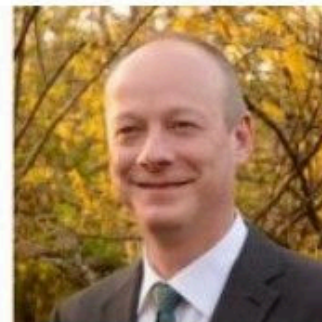

1 April 2021

ICHCA International makes new senior appointment

By Ann Butler | Published April 1, 2021

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1st July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the chief executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Before PSS, Richard was the senior learning and development manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years.

"We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing head, Richard Brough," John Beckett, chairman ICHCA International.

Richard Steele said: "I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members."

Commenting on Richard's departure, David Brown Chair PSS: "PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector".

1 April 2021

ICHCA lead changes hands

April 1, 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new head.

The International Cargo Handling Co-ordination Association (ICHCA) has appointed Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. Steele will take over the role from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to ICHCA's board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation, which provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

ICHCA said Steele is a safety and skills professional with a master's in training and development who has been involved in the port industry for over 21 years. He is currently the chief executive at Port Skills and Safety (PSS), an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Before PSS, Steele was the senior learning and development manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years.

Richard Steele, who has also worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision, will be the new head of ICHCA International.

1 April 2021

INTERNATIONAL CARGO HANDLING ASSOCIATION APPOINTS NEW HEAD

Posted by Paula Wallace | 1st April, 2021

Richard Steele will lead the International Cargo Handling Coordination Association from 1 July, on the retirement of Richard Brough

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

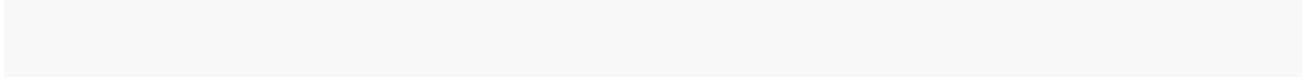

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

"We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough" John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: "I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members."

Commenting on Richard's departure, David Brown Chair PSS: "PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector".

30 March 2021

New chief for cargo handling body

March 30, 2021 // [Chris]

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has appointed Richard Steele as its new head of ICHCA International, taking over from Richard Brough from 1 July. He is a safety and skills professional and has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years and was previously senior learning and development manager for Associated British Ports for ten years.

31 March 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

in International Shipping News 31/03/2021

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E. Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard’s capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough” John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS: “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”.

Source: ICHCA International

1 April 2021

Who's on the move: April 7, 2021

Appointments, promotions, moves and changes in the supply chain sector this week

International Cargo Handling Coordination Association

Richard Steele

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has appointed Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from July 2021, on the retirement of Richard Brough. Reporting directly to the board, Steele will lead the organization. He is a safety and skills professional with a masters degree in training and development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the chief executive at Port Skills and Safety, an organization he has led for 11 years. Before PSS Steele was the senior learning and development manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years.

1 April 2021

Photo: ICHCA

01.04.2021

New head at ICHCA International

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA), an independent, not-for-profit organisation established in 1952, has appointed Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. He takes over on 1 July 2021, following the retirement of the current incumbent Richard Brough.

Steele joins from Port Skills and Safety, a ports health and safety membership organisation, where he is currently the chief executive and which he has led for eleven years.

Bringing 21 years' experience in the ports industry, Steele was the senior learning and development manager for Associated British ports for ten years, and has also worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision. (amh)

www.ichca.com

7 April 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new head

Current postholder, Richard Brough O.B.E. to retire July 1 2021

Richard Steele, new Head of ICHCA International

Wed 07 Apr 2021 08:00 AM

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce Richard Steele's appointment as the new Head of ICHCA International.

He will take over the role with effect from July 1 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

"We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough," John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International.

Reporting directly to the Board, Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains and represent its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Steele said: "I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members."

Steele is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety, an organisation he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidelines and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for ten years. Before ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

Commenting on Brough's departure, David Brown Chair PSS: "PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector."

1 April 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough” John Beckett;
Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard's departure, David Brown Chair PSS: “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”.

1 April 2021

ICHCA lead changes hands

1 April 2021

The International Cargo Handling Co-ordination Association (ICHCA) has appointed Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. Steele will take over the role from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Richard Steele, who has also worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision, will be the new head of ICHCA International.

<https://container-news.com/ichca-lead-changes-hands/>

31 March 2021

ICHCA International Taps Richard Steele as CEO

Richard Steele (Photo: ICHCA)

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) said it has appointed Richard Steele as the new head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from July 1, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the board, Steele will lead the organization, which aims to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains and represents members of the cargo handling industry.

Steele is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the chief executive at Port Skills and Safety an organization that he has led for 11 years. He was previously the senior learning and development manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International, said, “We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organizational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing head, Richard Brough.”

30 March 2021

ICHCA INTERNATIONAL APPOINTS RICHARD STEELE AS ITS NEW HEAD

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

“HE HAS PROVEN LEADERSHIP AND ORGANISATIONAL MANAGEMENT ABILITY”
The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has announced the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough,” said John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International.

Richard Steele said:

“I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS:

“PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”

31 March 2021

Cargo association appoints new head

31/03/2021 admin Uncategorized 0

Richard Steele

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has appointed Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard’s capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough” John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS said “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector.”

31 March 2021

ICHCA International appoints Richard Steele as its new Head

By Baibhav Mishra

March 31, 2021

Richard Steele (Image Courtesy: ICHCA)

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) is pleased to announce the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Richard Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Richard is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Richard was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

"We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard's capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA's delivery and reach. Richard's skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough" John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Richard Steele said: "I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members."

Commenting on Richard's departure, David Brown Chair PSS: "PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector."

Sea News, March 31

30 March 2021

Richard Steele to be new head at ICHCA

by Malcolm Latarche

March 31, 2021

ICHCA, The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association, has announced the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1 July 2021, on the retirement of the current postholder Richard Brough O.B.E.

Reporting directly to the Board, Steele will lead the organisation. ICHCA provides a focal point to help improve cargo handling throughout international supply chains as well as representing its members, and the cargo handling industry, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies as a recognised non-government organisation.

Steele is a safety and skills professional with a Masters in Training and Development who has been involved in the ports industry for over 21 years. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Before PSS, Steele was the senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years. Prior to ports, he worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

“We are delighted to welcome someone of Richard’s capability to ICHCA. We are committed to extending ICHCA’s delivery and reach. Richard’s skills and experience will ensure that we move confidently forward. He has proven leadership and organisational management ability which will be invaluable to our future. The ICHCA board is very excited about the journey ahead as we continue to build on the exceptional work of our outgoing Head, Richard Brough,” said John Beckett; Chairman ICHCA International

Steele said: “I am excited to join ICHCA at a time where there is real opportunity to build on the success of this internationally recognised and respected association and to create new value-add services and representation for our members.”

Commenting on Richard’s departure, David Brown Chair PSS said, “PSS are clearly sad to be losing Richard after 11 Years of outstanding service where he has really driven the agenda, with his team, for safer ports. However, we wish him every success as he moves into the International Arena and with the comfort that our respective organisations will continue to strive for ever greater safety in the Maritime sector”.

31 March 2021

People on the move - Maersk's CITO joins Executive Board

News 31 Mar 2021 by WCN Editorial

Dr Navneet Kapoor joins Maersk Executive Board; new CEO announced for ICHCA International; HHLA Italy appoints Manager; Stefan Bartke becomes technical director of Liebherr-MCCtec Rostock; new CEO for the Port of Gulfport

The International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) has announced the appointment of Richard Steele as the new Head of ICHCA International. He will take over the role with effect from 1st July, 2021, on the retirement of the current post holder Richard Brough, OBE. He is currently the Chief Executive at Port Skills and Safety, an organisation that he has led for 11 years. Port Skills and Safety is a subscriber organisation for UK ports with a remit to share best practice, develop safety guidance and standards and produce qualification frameworks for the industry. Prior to that, he was senior Learning and Development Manager for Associated British Ports for 10 years and he has also worked in the nuclear industry on safety and skills provision.

Richard Steele