FIATA and ICHCA strengthen collaboration

By: AJOT | Jun 29 2021 at 10:38 AM | Logistics

FIATA International Federation of Freight Forwarders Associations and the International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) have renewed their Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to reinforce collaboration between the two organizations. A signing ceremony took place online today and was attended by FIATA and ICHCA representatives, as well as respective members.

FIATA represents the freight forwarding industry by advocating trade facilitation policies and promoting best practices in the supply chain to speak with a unified voice in support of freight forwarding associations and logistics companies. ICHCA is dedicated to improving the safety, security, sustainability, productivity and efficiency of cargo handling and goods movement by all modes and through all phases of national and international supply chains.

The MoU facilitates close coordination between FIATA and ICHCA to help them pursue their respective organizational goals and further mutual understanding. The MoU also creates the framework for cooperation that will enable both organizations to benefit from agreed actions and initiatives to achieve common objectives.

"Cooperation with key industry organizations is critical to the safe and efficient performance of today's increasingly complex supply chains," said FIATA President, Basil Pietersen. "The renewal of our MoU with ICHCA provides a valuable opportunity to strengthen our collaboration and review our common goals. As we set sail into this new chapter of our partnership, I am confident that we will achieve the objectives set in this new cooperation agreement."

The identified areas for collaboration in the MoU include the engagement of all actors in safety and security-related topics, the digitalization of the supply chain, the improvement and reinforcement of operational efficiency, and regulatory and policy developments around the world that may impact on the activities of the supply chain.

"By renewing and strengthening our MoU with FIATA, the two organizations can work more effectively in pursuing our common goals and objectives," said ICHCA International's Chair, John Beckett. "We remain committed to our efforts to improve safety, security and sustainability in the global logistics supply chain, especially at the ship/port interface."

FIATA and ICHCA share a long history. Their collaboration has been ongoing for more than 25 years, with their first MoU signed in 2006. Since then, both organizations have engaged in different activities and meetings: to improve the carriage of packaged dangerous goods, elaborate and publish information material relating to carriage of dangerous goods, and take initiatives to actively influence the regulatory work at the UN.

(Global) Renewed MoU Maintains 25-year Relationship

The International Federation of Freight Forwarders Associations, or FIATA, and the International Cargo Handling Coordination Association, or ICHCA, renewed their memorandum of understanding on June 29, reinforcing collaboration between the two organizations.

FIATA advocates for the freight forwarding industry on trade facilitation policies and supply chain best practices in support of freight forwarding associations and logistics companies. ICHCA strives to improve safety, security, sustainability, productivity and efficiency of cargo handling and goods movement by all modes and through all phases of national and international supply chains.

Through the MoU, the organizations coordinate in pursuing their respective organizational goals and further mutual understanding, as well as creating the framework for cooperation that will enable them to benefit from agreed actions and initiatives to achieve common objectives.

“Cooperation with key industry organizations is critical to the safe and efficient performance of today's increasingly complex supply chains,” FIATA President Basil Pietersen said. “The renewal of our MoU with ICHCA provides a valuable opportunity to strengthen our collaboration and review our common goals. As we set sail into this new chapter of our partnership, I am confident that we will achieve the objectives set in this new cooperation agreement.”

The MoU’s areas for collaboration include engagement of all actors in safety and security-related topics, supply chain digitalization, improving and reinforcing operational efficiency, and global regulatory and policy developments that may impact on supply chain activities.

“By renewing and strengthening our MoU with FIATA, the two organizations can work more effectively in pursuing our common goals and objectives,” said John Beckett, ICHCA International’s chairman. “We remain committed to our efforts to improve safety, security and sustainability in the global logistics supply chain, especially at the ship/port interface.”

FIATA and ICHCA have collaborated for more than 25 years, signing their first MoU in 2006. The organizations have sought to improve the carriage of packaged dangerous goods, elaborate and publish information material relating to carriage of dangerous goods, and take initiatives to actively influence the regulatory work at the UN.

Two Major Links in the International Supply Chain Agree to Continued Cooperation

Freight Forwarders and Cargo Handlers Extend MOU

WORLDWIDE – This week saw the International Federation of Freight Forwarders Associations (FIATA) and the International Cargo Handling Coordination Association (ICHCA) renew their Memorandum of Understanding (MoU) to reinforce collaboration between the two organisations in an online signing ceremony.

For those unfamiliar with their respective roles FIATA is the voice of the international freight forwarding community, carrying the authority of parallel national bodies, whilst ICHCA is dedicated to improving the safety, security, sustainability, productivity and efficiency of cargo handling and goods movement by all modes and through all phases of national and international supply chains.

Many of the goals of the two organisations are similar and the MoU is intended to create a framework for cooperation that enables both organisations to benefit from agreed actions and initiatives to achieve common objectives. FIATA President, Basil Pietersen observed:

“Cooperation with key industry organisations is critical to the safe and efficient performance of today's increasingly complex supply chains. The renewal of our MoU with ICHCA provides a valuable opportunity to strengthen our collaboration and review our common goals. As we set sail into this new chapter of our partnership, I am confident that we will achieve the objectives set in this new cooperation agreement.”
