GUEST SPEAKERS

Be More Than A Bystander

Learn how the powerful and proven Be More Than A Bystander program addresses workplace bullying, harassment, and violence. This training program has kicked off workplace transformation for maritime industry organizations like yours and impacted thousands of workers to create more safe and respectful workplaces. You will learn how Ending Violence Association of BC and the BC Lions Football Club came together 11 years ago to form this unique partnership and review some of the highlights of their success along the way.

Ninu Kang, Executive Director, Ending Violence Association of BC

Ninu is recognized as a leader and visionary in the field of anti-violence and anti-racism and has facilitated training across North America and around the globe. Ninu helped develop the Be More Than a Bystander program to improve its accessibility to a diverse audience. She has held numerous executive positions and leadership roles in her career. She also has 30 years of experience as a clinician working with men in group settings to help them develop healthy relationships.

Corinne Stavness, Senior Manager of Prevention Services & Communications, Ending Violence Association of BC

Coming from a resource industry background, Corinne is passionate about improving workplace culture. Through her work with EVA BC, she has expanded the Be More Than a Bystander program to the private sector and developed partnerships with some of the largest organizations in British Columbia.

How Video Analytics can make ports safer

Ronald Babski, Vice President, Health and Safety, Port of Virginia

Ron is responsible for all aspects of safety performance at six marine container terminals with over 1,500 employees and 20,000 patrons. The Port pursues health and safety excellence through a rigorous program to identify hazards, develop solutions that will control those hazards, measure compliance and motivate everyone toward safe behaviors.

ICHCA International Team

Chief Executive Officer

Richard Steele

Head of Secretariat

Amanda Cooper

Established in 1952, ICHCA International is an independent, not-for-profit organisation dedicated to improving the safety, productivity and efficiency of cargo handling and movement worldwide. ICHCA's privileged NGO status enables it to represent its members, and the cargo handling industry at large, in front of national and international agencies and regulatory bodies, while its Technical Panel provides best practice advice and develops publications on a wide range of practical cargo handling issues. Operating through a series of national and regional chapters, including ICHCA Australia, ICHCA Japan and Correspondence and Working Groups, ICHCA provides a focal point for informing, educating, lobbying and networking to improve knowledge and best practice across the cargo handling chain.
